I. Course Information

This course provides an in-depth analysis of the relationship between violence and criminal behavior. The course assesses the theoretical bases of violence by looking at anthropological, biological, and sociological explanations. It provides students with an understanding of violence within the context of individual, group, and societal behavior.

Prerequisites: None

B.S., Criminal Justice Program Learning Goals

Upon completion of the B.S. in Criminal Justice at Rutgers University-Newark, students should be able to:

1) Describe the development and functions of major criminal justice institutions (e.g., police, courts, corrections, and juvenile justice), the activities of actors within these institutions, and how they relate to one another as well as the broader social, political, and economic world.

2) Describe the mechanisms, correlates, theoretical underpinnings, and situational contexts of crime, criminal behavior and opportunity, and techniques for prevention and treatment.
3) Apply and analyze theories related to the policies and practices of the criminal justice system and its major institutions.

4) Demonstrate the ability to gather, explain, and apply empirical research in the field of criminal justice.

5) Obtain a comprehensive knowledge about the process of conducting criminal justice research, and develop the skills to conduct criminal justice research with appropriate methodologies.

Course Learning Outcomes

By the end of this course, students will be able to:

- Discuss methodological issues in counting violence.
- Evaluate the sources of crime statistics.
- Compare and contrast assault, homicide, and sexual assault.
- Understand violence within the context of the family.
- Evaluate the link between social class and violence.
- Identify the link between race and violence.
- Recognize the link between mental illness and violence
- Understand the nature vs. nurture debate.
- Recognize the inadequacy of single-factor explanations.
- Compare and contrast male versus female perpetrated domestic homicide.
- Identify the causes of youth violence and the origin of youth gangs
- Determine the link between violent video games and violent behavior
- Understand domestic violence.
- Understand terrorism and genocide.

Required Course Materials

- All other readings will be posted on Blackboard

Course Requirements:

Students are required to read assigned readings and participate in classroom discussions in a manner that reflects familiarity with the readings and previous class sessions. Students are required to access the course website regularly to stay informed about any changes in lecture topics, assigned readings and other course announcements.
Course Structure:

The course will incorporate diverse learning activities including lectures, PowerPoint presentations, and group discussions.

Classroom learning is a group activity that depends upon everyone’s full participation in order to succeed. I expect students to: be prepared to begin class on time, silence or turn off and put away cell phones and other electronic devices, read and be prepared to discuss homework, submit assignments on time, and assist your classmates. You can expect that I will: be on time and prepared for every class, be available via email and appointments to answer questions, make every class engaging and valuable, and respect your contributions to class.

Course Assignments

Readings. Students are expected to complete all assigned readings before each class meeting. Class lectures and discussions will provide a venue to share insights gained from the assigned readings and to ask questions about issues of concern from the readings. Students also are responsible for reading all supplemental material assigned or provided.

Attendance and Participation

Attendance and participation constitute an integral part of your grade. Two or more unexcused absences will affect a portion of your grade. As such, students’ attendance and active participation is important. Failure to attend a class or leaving class before its conclusion will constitute an absence without a valid reason supported by documentation. If you miss more than two (2) classes without a documented excuse, your ability to pass this class will be placed in serious jeopardy. Also, it is important to note that lateness will not be tolerated. You will be considered late if you arrive after class has started. Please note that three (3) tardy days equate to one absence.

Exams: There will be two class exams worth 150 points, a midterm worth 100 points and a final exam worth 200 points. Except in serious cases of emergency, no makeup exam will be granted.

- Class Exam: Each exam consists of two parts: 20 multiple choice questions, 20 True or False identification questions. Students who miss exams will be marked down unless they have a valid medical or university business excuse. The exams will be in class without books, notes, computers, phones, audio devices, or other aids.

- Mid-Term Exam: This is a two-part exam and students are required to answer all questions. Part one is a multiple choice category of 25 questions. Part Two is a True or False Category of 25 questions. Students must answer all questions.

- Final Exams: This is a cumulative final examination designed to confirm student understanding of the concept of violence and violent crime in criminal justice. In this exam students will be assigned Multiple choice, True/False, and Short Questions. No text books, computers or cell phones are allowed during the exams.
IV. Course Policies

Classroom Rules
All members of this class are required to conduct themselves in an appropriate and professional manner. Laptops are permitted only if disengaged from the internet and other electronic devices should be stored away unless you specifically seek the instructor’s permission. In this class, we may have discussions that challenge our taken for granted assumptions about crime and justice. Students should be prepared to engage honestly and openly about this material and perhaps even examine their own beliefs about the issues. While I am hopeful that the course materials will spark interesting discussion, personal insults or other types of demeaning, disrespectful, or threatening comments toward other class members about their experiences, backgrounds, or statements will not be tolerated. No eating and use of cell phone is allowed in the classroom.

Academic Integrity
As a member of the Rutgers University community, you are not to engage in any academic dishonesty. You are responsible for adhering to basic academic standards of honesty and integrity as outlined in the Rutgers University Policy on Academic Integrity for Undergraduate and Graduate Students http://studentconduct.rutgers.edu/academic-integrity

Your academic work should be the result of your own individual effort, you should not allow other students to use your work, and you are required to recognize and reference any material that is not your own. Violations of the university’s policy will result in appropriate action.

Academic Resources

Students with Disabilities
Rutgers University is committed to providing equal educational opportunity for persons with disabilities in accordance with the Nondiscrimination Policy of the University and in compliance with § 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and with Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990.
