

CJ 47:202:425 MISCARRIAGES OF JUSTICE SYLLABUS

This course is offered asynchronously during the Fall 2020 semester. As such, we will not have regular meeting times each week in which we are all in the same virtual space at the same time. We will, however, have opportunities to connect virtually in real time as the semester progresses in one-on-one sessions with me, and in larger settings. I am excited to embark on this adventure with you and anticipate this to be an engaging and interesting class!

"It is more important that innocence be protected than it is that guilt be punished, for guilt and crimes are so frequent in this world that they cannot all be punished. But if innocence itself is brought to the bar and condemned, perhaps to die, then the citizen will say, 'whether I do good or whether I do evil is immaterial, for innocence itself is no protection,' and if such an idea as that were to take hold in the mind of the citizen that would be the end of security whatsoever."

~ John Adams

COURSE DESCRIPTION

The Supreme Court of the United States has used the following principle to provide the philosophical basis for proof beyond a reasonable doubt: "better 10 guilty go free than even one innocent be wrongly convicted." Yet, miscarriages of justice can and do (with alarming regularity) occur. The purpose of this course is to provide a critical and interdisciplinary examination of the current functioning of the American criminal justice system. We will examine policies (e.g., police procedure, prosecution, jury selection, use of scientific evidence, etc.) and practices of police, prosecutors, defense attorneys, judges, and juries that can contribute to innocents being wrongfully apprehended, prosecuted, convicted, incarcerated, and even executed. While the content of this course focuses primarily on wrongful convictions, it is not one-sided. A broad definition of 'justice' requires that we consider the implications of both convicting the innocent and neglecting to convict the guilty. Readings and discussions will center on the tension between controlling crime and ensuring the rights of the accused.

B.S., CRIMINAL JUSTICE PROGRAM LEARNING GOALS

Upon completion of the B.S. in Criminal Justice at Rutgers University-Newark, students should be able to:

- 1) Describe the development and functions of major criminal justice institutions (e.g., police, courts, corrections, and juvenile justice), the activities of actors within these institutions, and how they relate to one another as well as the broader social, political, and economic world.
- 2) Describe the mechanisms, correlates, theoretical underpinnings, and situational contexts of crime, criminal behavior and opportunity, and techniques for prevention and treatment.
- 3) Apply and analyze theories related to the policies and practices of the criminal justice system and its major institutions.
- 4) Demonstrate the ability to gather, explain, and apply empirical research in the field of criminal justice.
- 5) Obtain a comprehensive knowledge about the process of conducting criminal justice research, and develop the skills to conduct criminal justice research with appropriate methodologies.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES OF THIS COURSE

- Identify sociological, psychological, legal, and scientific factors that contribute to wrongful convictions
- Understand the philosophical and ethical underpinnings of decisions that result in miscarriages of justice
- Recognize the criminal justice procedures related to policing, prosecution, and defense that generate miscarriages of justice
- Discover how extralegal factors relate to miscarriages of justice
- Explore the collateral consequences of punishing "false positives," including implications for undermining the legitimacy of the criminal justice system and allowing impunity for culpable offenders who remain at-large
- Be conversant about existing redress mechanisms and policies to remedy miscarriages of justice
- Enhance critical thinking skills through participation in class discussions and completion of course assignments. Critical thinking entails identifying the logic of arguments and their assumptions, analyzing evidence to make logical conclusions, understanding how various concepts are logically related to each other, and learning to identify and understand multiple viewpoints
- Develop analytical, research, and presentation skills through discussions

REQUIRED READINGS

Westervelt, Saundra D. and John A. Humphrey (Eds.) (2001). Wrongly Convicted: Perspectives on Failed Justice. New Brunswick, N.J.: Rutgers University Press. ISBN: 9780813529523

The remainder of the required readings, podcasts, discussion boards, and other resources can be found on the Canvas course site.

COURSE STRUCTURE

Miscarriages of Justice is offered as an advanced course. The course readings are central for our group discussions, which will take place each week continuously throughout the semester. You will be expected to participate in discussions between one and three times per week. Students are therefore required to read assigned articles, review the recorded minilectures and PowerPoint slides, and participate in discussion boards in a manner that reflects familiarity with the readings and previous course content.

You will be consulting the course Canvas website multiple times a week to stay informed about any course announcements, to review assigned readings, to access on-line materials, to participate in class discussions, and the like. Please anticipate spending approximately 10 hours per week on this class, including reading the required material, contributing to the discussion board, responding to your colleagues, preparing for exams, and generally participating in our virtual experience together.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

			Link to SLO
Weekly quizzes on required readings:	20%	=	SLO # 1, 2, 3, and 5
Weekly participation on discussion boards:	30%	=	SLO # 1, 2, 3, and 4
Midterm exam:	25%	=	SLO # 1, 2, and 3
Final exam:	25%	=	SLO # 1, 2, and 3

Weekly quizzes on required readings (20%): A multiple choice or short answer quiz, focused on the required readings, will be posted on Canvas by 9:00 AM on Mondays. The quizzes will close at 5:00 PM on Tuesday of each week in which readings are assigned. You will have one opportunity to take each quiz and these quizzes will be timed. Complete the weekly quiz only after you have read and digested the required readings.

Weekly participation on discussion boards (30%): Because this course is offered on-line and asynchronously, it is very important to be an active participant in the class. As such, a large portion of your final grade is dedicated to your participation on the relevant discussion boards on Canvas. It is your responsibility to post one to three times per week. You can find a rubric for these postings and expectations about your participation below.

Midterm exam (25%): The first exam will be made available on Tuesday October 13 at 9:00 AM and will close on Wednesday October 14 at 9:00 PM. You will have one hour to complete the exam from the moment you open it, and you may only open it once. You will be responsible for all material in the course from the beginning of the semester through the end of the week of October 5. This exam may include multiple choice, true/false, short answer, and/or essay questions. Further details will be provided.

Final exam (25%): The second exam will be available on Tuesday December 8 at 9:00 AM and will close on Wednesday December 9 at 9:00 PM. You will have one hour to complete the exam from the moment you open it, and you may only open it once. You will be responsible for all material in the course from the week of October 19 through the end of the week of November 30. This exam may include multiple choice, true/false, short answer, and/or essay questions. Further details will be provided.

EXPECTATIONS FOR STUDENTS

I expect that students who are seriously committed to learning in this course will:

- 1. Follow the guidelines and policies set forth in this syllabus and on all assignments. This includes ensuring that you participate in the discussion board, and take quizzes and exams on the scheduled due dates.
- 2. Participate in discussions regularly. The material covered in lecture videos and PowerPoint slides will not simply be a regurgitation of the readings, and discussion forums provide an opportunity to understand these materials.
- 3. Prepare for each week by carefully reviewing the assigned readings and watch the assigned podcasts or videos. Read all of the required reading for each week and watch the assigned podcasts/videos before the week in question. This will allow you to actively participate in discussions and prepare for exams.
- 4. Write notes on and generate questions from the readings. Exams will be based on material that is covered in mini-lectures, PowerPoint slides, podcasts, and the readings, only some of which may be raised in online discussions. If you have questions about the material, be sure to raise them in the discussion forums.
- 5. Attend office hours to discuss the lecture material, readings, and assignments. You should attend as often as possible but, at minimum, you must check in during office hours at least 3 times during the semester.

Students who do not fulfill these expectations will find it hard to earn a "C" in this course and generally do not do as well as they want or expect.

COURSE POLICIES

Office hours: On Monday each week, I will hold virtual office hours from 1-2 pm EST. You should be regularly attending these and, at minimum, check-in during office hours at least 3 times during the semester.

Course Canvas Site: The use of the Canvas site for this course is integral to be kept informed of upcoming class announcements, to participate in discussions, to access lecture videos, and to connect to podcasts and required readings. The site will host all quizzes; quizzes will close at 5:00 pm Tuesday of each week. The site also has a collection of all of the required course readings that are not included in the text book, copies of lecture slides/videos, assignments, the syllabus, and other important reminders. Please consult Canvas regularly for relevant information.

Participation: In an online class, it is extremely important that you participate regularly to interact with me and your peers. The discussion forums provide a key venue for these interactions. You will be expected to participate multiple times per week in these discussions (one to three times or more times, depending on the week). Your participation in these discussions is vital to your success in the course. Below, I provide a rubric for evaluating the quality and content of your contributions to discussion.

Protocols for Discussion Forums: The discussion forums in an online class replace in-class discussions and thus represent the major form of communication between you, me, and your peers. These are not text messages. You should employ appropriate written English in your postings. Your contributions should be grammatically correct, use appropriate punctuation, and (generally) avoid emojis. You should be referencing course and related materials (readings, lecture material, material from previous weeks, and even new material that you have discovered – i.e. a recent newspaper article, for example, in which you provide a link) in your postings. Each posting should be at least a full paragraph, elaborating and describing your points. It is also ideal to build upon and respond to the points of your peers, and to raise questions for discussion for the rest of us. At all times, it is important to be supportive and thoughtful in your responses to your classmates. Often discussion questions do not have one 'right' answer but rather ask you to ponder, extend, or evaluate a statement or question. Your discussion postings must reflect engagement with the material and with the comments of your peers (note: something like "I agree with Jamie" is not an engaging post!). Offensive language or content will NOT be tolerated. Please be considerate and respectful in your exchanges with me and with your classmates. You can expect that others will do the same in return.

Rubric for Discussion Forum Postings: Your contributions will be assessed as follows:

CHARACTERISTICS	POOR: 1 POINT	GOOD: 2 POINTS	EXCELLENT: 3 POINTS
Timeliness and quantity of contributions	One posting per discussion; often posting later in the week	Two or three postings per discussion; postings distributed throughout the week, with first posting occurring early or midway through the week	Two or three postings per discussion; postings are well distributed throughout the week, with first posting early in the week
Responsiveness to discussion; demonstration of knowledge; understanding gained from assigned reading	Postings have questionable relation to the reading material or topic under discussion, with little or no evidence of understanding	It is clear from the postings that the readings were understood; concepts and insights are incorporated into responses	It is very clear from the postings that the readings were understood and ideas are incorporated well into responses; postings continue or build upon the comments and insights of your peers
Follows online protocols for clear communications; correct grammar, spelling, and clarity	Online protocols are not followed; organization is unclear	Most online protocols are followed; statements are mostly organized and clear	All online protocols are followed; statements are well organized and clear

Grading Rubric: Please note that you must complete both exams in order to be eligible for a passing grade in this course. The final grade will be assessed as follows:

A	=	90.0-100%	Work is excellent in quality; it is correct, comprehensive, and markedly superior
B+	=	87.0-89.9%	Work is very good in quality; it is correct and provides a detailed
В	=	80.0-86.9%	explanation in responses; exceeds expectations in some areas
C+	=	77.0-79.9%	Work is of acceptable quality; may be missing or incorrect in a
C	=	70.0-76.9%	minor area; meets but does not exceed expectations
D	=	60.0-69.9%	Work does not meet expectations for the course but passes; it is incorrect in one or more major areas
F	=	0-59.9%	Work fails to meet minimum expectations for the course

If you require further clarification regarding your performance on an exam or other assignment, you are responsible for setting up an individual virtual appointment with me. I will not discuss grades during the designated virtual office hours, as these are designed to be drop-in opportunities and thus are not private.

Requests to review or reconsider any grade received must be made directly to me within 7 days of the return of the graded coursework. Requests for grade reassessment on exams must be accompanied by a written explanation detailing why you believe your grade should be higher. Please note that a request to re-grade means that the exam will be reassessed in its entirety and, in the event of an error in grading, the final grade may increase or decrease accordingly.

Reading Assignments & Watching Assigned Podcasts: You are expected to read and watch all assigned material prior to each week in which the material is assigned. This is imperative to successful performance in this course.

Missed Classes/Assignments/Exams: If you are not able to complete an assignment due to a documented emergency situation or unavoidable conflict (i.e. illness, personal or family emergency, participation in intercollegiate athletics, religious observance, etc.), you should reach out to me immediately to make arrangements for missed work or to schedule a make-up exam. Students who must, for any reason, miss an assignment, quiz, or exam should consult with me.

In the case of missed exams, documentation/verification of the absence will be required. Please contact me in advance of the exam, if at all possible.

Students for whom a religious holiday or observance conflicts with a course requirement should notify me by no later than the end of the Add-Drop period of potential scheduled conflicts to discuss whether mutually acceptable alternative methods exist for completing the missed assignment/exam.

Lecture Material: Course materials including email communications, lecture slides, and lecture content are the property of the instructor. Publishing this content on the internet or elsewhere is a violation of the intellectual property rights of the instructor.

Video/Audio: You may not video or audiotape material without the instructor's express consent.

Contacting Me: Discussion forums are the preferred method for any questions you have regarding the course material. If you have a question, you can bet that you are not the only one! Using the discussion forums to raise these questions provide opportunities for your classmates to have their queries responded to as well. I will generally try to respond to discussion forum questions within 24-48 hours, but I do not guarantee a response within 24-48 hours. I will be looking for you to be both asking questions or raising points, and responding to the questions and points of others in these discussion forums. My response time may be extended for questions posted over the weekend. You may contact me by email, but these emails should be limited to private questions about your performance, missed assignments, or grades and not general questions that would benefit the entire group.

General Conduct: You have a right to learn in an environment that is free from disruptions or offensive comments. I have the right to set appropriate standards of conduct that foster respectful and dignified treatment of faculty, students, and staff. As such, please be mindful of the general code of conduct that would be appropriate in any classroom setting. It is important to engage in a professional and respectful manner with me and your peers at all times.

In learning about criminology and criminal justice, students may encounter language, depictions, or attitudes that they find disturbing or offensive. It is important, then, to be respectful of the thoughts, ideas, and contributions of others in order to foster participation in a non-threatening and comfortable environment for learning. Please feel free to discuss with me any concerns you may have regarding sensitive issues in course materials.

Academic Integrity: As a member of the Rutgers University community you are not to engage in any academic dishonesty. You are responsible for adhering to basic academic standards of honesty and integrity as outlined in the Rutgers University Policy on Academic Integrity for Undergraduate and Graduate Students (http://studentconduct.rutgers.edu/academic-integrity). Your academic work should be the result of your own individual effort, you should not allow other students to use your work, and you are required to recognize and reference any material that is not your own.

Plagiarism, academic dishonesty, and cheating are serious violations. Ensure that you cite references appropriately in your written work. When you paraphrase from others, cite their work in the text, and reference the citation in your bibliography. When you use direct quotes from others, insert quotation marks around the borrowed text and cite appropriately. Violations of the university's policy will result in disciplinary action.

Psychological and Counseling Services: If you experience psychological or other difficulties as a result of this course, or because of other issues that may interfere with your performance in the course, please contact the university's psychological and counseling service center, which is located in Blumenthal Hall, room 101 (www.counseling.newark.rutgers.edu; 973-353-5805). The center offers a variety of free, confidential services to part-time and full-time students who are enrolled at Rutgers.

RU-N Accommodation and Support Statement:

Rutgers University Newark (RU-N) is committed to the creation of an inclusive and safe learning environment for all students and the University as a whole. RU-N has identified the following resources to further the mission of access and support:

For Individuals with Disabilities: The Office of Disability Services (ODS) is responsible for the determination of appropriate accommodations for students who encounter barriers due to disability. Once a student has completed the ODS process (registration, initial appointment, and submitted documentation) and reasonable accommodations are determined to be necessary and appropriate, a Letter of Accommodation (LOA) will be provided. The LOA must be given to each course instructor by the student and followed up with a discussion. This should be done as early in the semester as possible as accommodations are not retroactive. More information can be found at https://ods.rutgers.edu/. Contact ODS at (973)353-5375 or via email at ods@newark.rutgers.edu/.

For Individuals who are Pregnant: The Office of Title IX and ADA Compliance is available to assist with any concerns or potential accommodations related to pregnancy. Students may contact the Office of Title IX and ADA Compliance at (973) 353-1906 or via email at TitleIX@newark.rutgers.edu.

For Absence Verification: The Office of the Dean of Students can provide assistance for absences related to religious observance, emergency or unavoidable conflict (e.g., illness, personal or family emergency, etc.). Students should refer to University Policy 10.2.7 for information about expectations and responsibilities. The Office of the Dean of Students can be contacted by calling (973) 353-5063 or emailing deanofstudents@newark.rutgers.edu.

For Individuals with temporary conditions/injuries: The Office of the Dean of Students can assist students who are experiencing a temporary condition or injury (e.g., broken or sprained limbs, concussions, or recovery from surgery). Students experiencing a temporary condition or injury should submit a request using the following link: https://temporaryconditions.rutgers.edu.

For English as a Second Language (ESL): The Program in American Language Studies (PALS) can support students experiencing difficulty in courses due to English as a Second Language (ESL) and can be reached by emailing PALS@newark.rutgers.edu to discuss potential supports.

For Gender or Sex-Based Discrimination or Harassment: The Office of Title IX and ADA Compliance can assist students who are experiencing any form of gender or sex-based discrimination or harassment, including sexual assault, sexual harassment, relationship violence, or stalking. Students can report an incident to the Office of Title IX and ADA Compliance by calling (973) 353-1906 or emailing titleIX@newark.rutgers.edu. Incidents may also be reported by using the following link: tinyurl.com/RUNReportingForm. For more information, students should refer to the University's Student Policy Prohibiting Sexual Harassment, Sexual Violence, Relationship Violence, Stalking and Related Misconduct located at http://compliance.rutgers.edu/title-ix/about-title-ix/title-ix-policies/.

For support related to interpersonal violence: The Office for Violence Prevention and Victim Assistance can provide any student with confidential support. The office is a confidential resource and does not have an obligation to report information to the University's Title IX Coordinator. Students can contact the office by calling (973) 353-1918 or emailing run.vpva@rutgers.edu. There is also a confidential text-based line available to students; students can text (973) 339-0734 for support.

For Crisis and Concerns: The Campus Awareness Response and Education (CARE) Team works with students in crisis to develop a support plan to address personal situations that might impact their academic performance. Students, faculty and staff may contact the CARE Team by using the following link: tinyurl.com/RUNCARE or emailing careteam@rutgers.edu.

For Stress, Worry, or Concerns about Well-being: The Counseling Center has confidential therapists available to support students. Students should reach out to the Counseling Center to schedule an appointment: counseling@newark.rutgers.edu or (973) 353-5805. If you are not quite ready to make an appointment with a therapist but are interested in self-help, check out TAO at Rutgers-Newark for an easy, web-based approach to self-care and support: https://tinyurl.com/RUN-TAO.

For emergencies, call 911 or contact Rutgers University Police Department (RUPD) by calling (973) 353-5111.
