

EMILY GREBERMAN

Phone: (215)-480-4802

Email: e.greberman@rutgers.edu

EDUCATION

- | | | |
|------------|--|-----------------------|
| PhD | Rutgers University | Start Date: Fall 2022 |
| MS | University of Pennsylvania, Criminology
Master Thesis: Understanding Vaccine Hesitancy in U.S. Prisons
With mentorship from Aaron Chalfin | May 2022 |
| BS | Drexel University, Criminology & Justice Studies and Psychology
Graduated Magna Cum Laude
Graduated with Honors | June 2021 |

RESEARCH EXPERIENCE

The Little Scandinavia Project	April 2019 to Present
Research Assistant to Dr. Jordan Hyatt, Philadelphia PA

- Participate in bi-weekly meetings at SCI Chester with research and correctional staff and document project events and generate reports for stakeholders (on pause due to COVID)
- Transcribed participant reflections and data entry that totaled over 100+hours of recordings
- Co-authored a published paper centering around correctional officer wellness using a Scandinavian perspective

The Crime and Justice Policy Lab	November 2021 to May 2022
Research Assistant to Renee Contreras, University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia PA

- Dedicate around 8 hours a week to lab work
- Assist with Shannon Community Safety Initiative Project by creating monthly topic briefings and newsletters for community partners
- Gather information on trauma-informed practices to conduct during individual risk assessments.
- Cultivate packets for community partners to integrate with the sensitivity of intake processes.

Senior Thesis: Twitter as a Mechanism for Coping	September 2020 to June 2021
with a Traumatic Event: Ferguson and the Shooting of Michael Brown

Advisor: Dr. Robert Kane, Drexel University, Philadelphia PA

- Utilized psychological as well as criminological research to define collective coping mechanisms when dealing with a traumatic event
- Provided background research on the effect of community resilience and police brutality on minority populations
- Coded over 7,000 tweets utilizing Excel for categorical variables in Excel relating to symptoms of coping

- The completed work was presented to the College of Arts & Sciences Interdepartmental Research Showcase and won first place.

Juvenile Justice Research and Reform Lab

June 2019- Sept 2020

Research Assistant to Naomi Goldstein, Drexel University, Philadelphia PA

- Perform data entry and cleaning using SPSS for several survey projects
- Read, summarize, and compare journal articles beneficial for the background of studies that totaled 9 hours of work a week.

STARS Undergraduate Researcher

June 2018-August 2018

- Provided an empirical analysis on how Twitter can be used to bridge communication between 2+ groups or institutions
- Utilized SPSS to code tweets from the 25 largest police departments in the U.S June - August 2018 to test how police departments use their Twitter accounts to interact with their communities
- Presented findings in showcase to Drexel community members, featured on department's website

PUBLICATIONS

Journal Publications

Understanding Vaccine Hesitancy in U.S. Prisons, Greberman, E, Hyatt, J, Chalfin, A, Kerrison, E, Under Review, 2023

Hyatt, J. M., Andersen, S. N., Greberman, E., Andersen, L. H., & Christensen, I. (2022). Developing harm reduction policies: Evidence from Copenhagen's drug consumption rooms. Drug and Alcohol Review.

Horowitz, V. L., Greberman, E. R., Nolan, P. E., Hyatt, J. M., Uggen, C., Andersen, S. N., & Chanenson, S. L. (2021). A comparative perspective on officer wellness: american reflections from norwegian prisons. Criminal Justice Studies, 1-21.

Technical Reports

Staff Perceptions of Incentives for COVID Vaccination, Report for PA Department of Corrections, Jordan Hyatt, Valerio Bacak, Erin Kerrison, Emily Greberman, August 2021

Acknowledgments

Michael Mueller-Smith and Kevin T. Schnepel, Diversion in the Criminal Justice System, The Review of Economic Studies 1-54 (2020)

PRESENTATIONS

Conference Presentation

Theorizing the Building Blocks for a Rehabilitative Prison Environment, American Society of Criminology Conference, 2023

Predictive Factors of Covid-19 Vaccine Hesitancy and Acceptance Among Incarcerated Individuals, American Society of Criminology Conference, 2022

Leah Brogan, Naomi E. Goldstein, Jeanne McPhee, Elizabeth Gale-Bentz, Lea Parker, Elizabeth Calio, Emily Greberman. Using community-based, participatory action research to reform juvenile probation practice – American Psychology-Law Society Conference, March 2020

College Senior Thesis Presentation

Twitter as a mechanism for coping with a traumatic event: Ferguson and the shooting of Michael Brown by Emily Greberman with mentorship by Dr. Robert Kane, -Drexel University College of Arts and Sciences Interdepartmental Research Showcase, May 2021

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Rutgers University, Newark, New Jersey

Teaching Assistant:

- Intro to Criminal Justice, Fall 2023 & Spring 2024
- Undergraduate Research Methods, Online, Spring 2023
- MA Statistics and Data Management, In-person, Fall 2022
 - Providing an average of 15 hours/week of work
 - Grading weekly assignments and exams
 - Host midterm and final review sessions and office hours

Drexel University, Philadelphia, PA

January 2020 to June 2021

Teaching Assistant, Community-Based Learning Classes:

- Places of Justice, 4 credits, freshman + community students, Spring 2021
- Justice in Our Community, 4 credits, freshman+ community students, Winter 2021
- Prison, Society, and You, 4 credits, freshman+ community students, Fall 2021
- Techniques of Public Speaking, 3 credits, all years+ community students, Winter 2020
 - Lead and facilitate group activities and discussions totaling 25 hours a term, as well as offer office hours 5 times a term to aid students with work and assignments.
 - Classes consisted of half Drexel students and half community members. Those members were of several backgrounds such as currently and previously incarcerated, international peers in Amsterdam

LEADERSHIP AND PUBLIC SPEAKING

Guest Lecturer, Rutgers University, Comparative Criminology, Dr. Valerio Bachak, Fall 2023

Guest Lecturer, Rutgers University, Intro to Criminal Justice, Dr. Colleen Berryessa, Fall 2023

Penn Grad Talks Presenter: Social Sciences, University of Pennsylvania, March 2022

Recruitment Representative, Student Advisory Board for College of Arts and Sciences, Drexel University 2020-2021

Student Ambassador, College of Arts and Sciences and Criminology Department, Drexel University, 2017-2021

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

Youth Aid Panel for the District Attorney's Office of Philadelphia

[Panel Member], [Philadelphia, PA], April 2019- March 2022

- Attend panel hearings 2-3 times a month to set contracts for first-time juvenile offenders targeting their needs
- Monitor 1-2 juveniles ages 10-17 to enforce abiding by a contract for 3 months
- Contact juvenile each week and monitor their contract completion

Dornsife Center for Community Engagement

[Volunteer], [Philadelphia, PA], September 2018 -June 2019

- Assist community members in GED prep such as math and reading skills

HONORS AND AWARDS

First Place in Interdepartmental Research Showcase 2021

Presented Senior Thesis "Twitter as a Mechanism for Coping with a Traumatic Event: Ferguson and the Shooting of Michael Brown" to Drexel's College of Arts & Sciences Research Showcase and won first place.

Dean's List 2017-2021

Drexel University

Recipient 2020

General Electric College Bowl Endowed Scholarship

COMPUTER SKILLS

Data Analysis: R, NVivo, SPSS, ArcGIS, Microsoft Excel

Writing Platforms: Microsoft Word and Powerpoint, Trint Transcription

Learning Tools: Canvas, Perusall, Akindi, Canva, Prezi