Course Overview
This course covers various topics that are considered to be critical law enforcement problems. Specific areas of inquiry include how to police organized crime, alcohol and drugs, the policing of civil and natural disturbances, and the diffusion and multiplicity of police agencies. Discussion of issues within crime reporting by the police, assessment difficulties, and public reactions to law enforcement and order maintenance strategies used by the police are covered in this course. Administrative problems of staffing, supervision, employee morale and militancy, and public charges are also critically discussed. Additionally, this is a writing-intensive course and requires successful knowledge and application of English grammar and writing structure to include a research paper.

Prerequisite
English Comp 102

2. Identify and explain a variety of contemporary approaches used by the police to control and reduce crimes with evidence-based practices.
3. Describe the role and function of police in a society and the impact of law enforcement on crime and public support.
4. Apply theoretical knowledge of policing strategies to real life scenarios.
5. Effectively communicate these ideas through writing a variety of different documents.

Course Requirements

Students are required to read assigned readings, participate in classroom discussions, and turn in writing assignments in a manner that reflects familiarity with the readings and previous class sessions. Students are required to access course information, announcements, assignments, and other relevant course material via Canvas and your Rutgers e-mail address regularly to stay informed about the course.

Course Structure

The course will incorporate diverse learning activities including lectures, PowerPoint presentations, group discussions, in class and homework activities/assignments. Classroom learning is a group activity that depends upon everyone’s full participation to succeed. I expect students to: be prepared to begin class on time, silence or turn off and put away cell phones and other electronic devices, read and be prepared to discuss homework, submit assignments on time, and be respectful toward your classmates. You can expect that I will: be on time and prepared for every class, be available via email and appointments to answer questions, make every class engaging and valuable, and respect your contributions to class.

TBD  FINAL EXAM 3 – Cumulative

Assessments/Evaluations

The final grade will be assessed based upon your performance on the following: three exams (3 x 75 points = 225 points), 10 in-class and out of class assignments (10 x 10 points = 100 points), one research paper (1 x 125 points = 125 points), and participation (15 x 5 points = 75 points).

Exams (3 x 75 points = 225 points): Exams will include both multiple choice questions and short answer/essay questions. The first two exams will be non-cumulative, however, the last and final exam will be cumulative which means that you will be responsible for all material that was covered in the course throughout the entire semester.

Assignments (10 x 10 points = 100 points): You will be responsible for writing assignments that will be assigned throughout the semester. Assignments will usually be due on Sundays at 11:59pm and will be posted on Canvas. Assignments can include short essays, critical thinking writing assignments, applied application assignments, and multiple choice quizzes (2). Assignments need to be turned in with WORD document format and will increasingly be graded on proper use of grammar, sentence structure, and writing format. NO google docs are allowed.

If the instructor observes difficulty with mastering proper use of grammar, sentence structure, and writing format through the writing assignments, the instructor reserves the right to refer that student to the writing center for additional, tailored assistance. Proof of visiting the writing center tutor may be required in such circumstances.

Assignment 1: Cover Letter
Assignment 2: Importance and Influence of History

Assignment 3: Municipal and County Police Agencies

Assignment 4: Police Report

Assignment 5: Fourth Amendment Rights

Assignment 6: Application of Problem-Oriented Policing Strategies

Assignment 7: Police Use of Force News Article

Assignment 8: Newark Police Department Consent Decree

Assignment 9: Choice of Responding to Two Posed Questions related to Terrorism or Mental Health

Assignment 10: Course Review

Research Paper (3 x 5 = 15, 1 x 10 = 10, 1 x 100 points = 100 points): For the research paper, you will choose a topic related to policing and write a research paper on that policing topic. Research paper requirements will be discussed in class and information in addition to writing resources will be provided on Canvas. Throughout the semester, you will make progress on your research paper and turn in assignments related to your research paper topic (5 points), research paper thesis and outline (5 points), research paper references (5 points), and a draft research paper (10 points). I will provide you with specific feedback on your writing throughout the semester and on your research paper draft. From this continued feedback, you are required to revise and resubmit the final research paper. The research paper (100 points) will need to be turned in with WORD document format. NO google docs are allowed.

Participation (10 x 7.5 points each = 75 points): Participation will be assessed through in-class activities applying the lecture material. You will have a chance to earn 5 points per class. In general, I will award full points for being present and making a good effort.

If you require further clarification regarding your performance on an assignment, research paper assignment, or exam, you are responsible for setting up an appointment with the instructor. I will not discuss grades via e-mail.

Requests to review or reconsider any grade received must be made directly to myself within 7 days of the return of the graded coursework. Requests for grade reassessment on exams or assignments must be accompanied by a written explanation detailing why you believe your grade should be higher. Please note that a request to re-grade means that the exam or assignment will be reassessed in its entirety and, in the event of an error in grading, the final grade may increase or decrease accordingly.
Late or Missing Assignment Policy

Late work. Late assignments will be penalized by one letter grade for each day they are late. The penalty will max out at 5 days, meaning that the most you lose for late work is 50%. An assignment is considered late if it is not submitted to Canvas by the stated deadline.

Missed Work or Exams. Absences resulting in missed work or exams will be excused for personal or family emergencies. Note that I may ask you to provide documentation.

Course Policies

Canvas will be the learning management system that I will be using. Here is a link to resources that will help you to navigate Canvas in the event you are new to the platform: https://canvas.rutgers.edu/documentation/students/.

Video/Audio/Photography

There is to be absolutely NO recording or taking pictures of the lectures and class participation during the class. If you wish to record via video, audio, or pictures of the lectures, you will need to get explicit permission from me as the instructor. As further notification, I will not record video, audio, or take pictures of the class without your permission. Any violation of this policy will be grounds for disciplinary action.

Attendance

Class attendance is required. Students are responsible for all lecture material and required readings. The written assignments, research paper, and exam will test your knowledge of all these skillsets. I strongly recommend that you attend class regularly, actively engage in class discussions, and complete all required readings according to the course schedule.

General Conduct

Students have a right to learn in an environment that is free from disruptions or offensive comments. Faculty have the right to set appropriate standards of classroom conduct that foster respectful and dignified treatment of faculty, students, and staff. As such, please be mindful of the general code of conduct that would be appropriate in any classroom setting. It is important to engage in a professional and respectful manner with the professor, teaching assistants, and your peers at all times. Please be prepared to arrive to class on time, avoid carrying on private conversations with your neighbor(s), avoid talking out of turn, and avoid texting, surfing the internet, or checking Facebook or other social media sites during class. In general, please do not engage in any non-class activities during class meetings. If you must arrive late or leave early, please sit near the door and arrive/leave as quietly as possible to avoid disruption or sign off without any further disruption to the class. If the instructor observes any student using his/her/their cell phone for non-related class issues, the instructor will politely ask for the student to put the cell phone away. If the problem persists, the instructor reserves the right to follow-up with the student to discuss the issue.

In learning about criminology and criminal justice, students may encounter language, depictions, or attitudes that they find disturbing or offensive. It is important, then, to be respectful of the thoughts, ideas, and contributions of others to foster participation in a non-threatening and comfortable classroom environment. Respect also includes active listening. Please feel free to discuss with me any concerns you may have regarding sensitive issues in course materials.

E-mail communication
Your Rutgers email account is the official form of communication for this class and you should check it regularly. You are responsible for all information about the class sent to that email address. I will only respond to emails from your Rutgers address. When you send me an email, write your main topic/concern in the subject line, keep emails professional, and sign your name. I will try to respond within 24 hours.

Academic Integrity
As a member of the Rutgers University community, you are not to engage in any academic dishonesty. You are responsible for adhering to basic academic standards of honesty and integrity as outlined in the Rutgers University Policy on Academic Integrity for Undergraduate and Graduate Students http://studentconduct.rutgers.edu/academic-integrity

Your academic work should be the result of your own individual effort, you should not allow other students to use your work, and you are required to recognize and reference any material that is not your own. Violations of the university’s policy will result in appropriate action.
